Masking Compounds:

- ▶ TacMold (A2023-A / A2023-B) masking compound is a 2 part silicone putty which is designed to withstand all forms of thermal spray including GF-HVOF and LF-HVOF. This putty is intended to assist with masking holes or complicated intricate profiles. In some cases, the compound is reusable.
- ▶ TacBloc - A soft, conformable, putty-like material for masking holes, grooves, key slots or any unique configuration. Unlike TacMold, TacBloc is formulated to adhere to metal in areas where anchorage is not possible. TacBloc is good for all forms of thermal spray.

Characteristics:

- ▶ High Abrasion Resistance
- ▶ Great flexibility and conformability
- ▶ Contamination free surface
- ▶ Peel adhesion
- ▶ Prevent bridging or cracking

Advantages:

- ▶ Reduce time
- ▶ Reduce tape consumption
- ▶ Reduce overall costs
- ▶ Improve throughput
- ▶ Eliminate rework
